2018 Student Journalist of the Year Award

The Melbourne Press Club

WHAT IS IT?

The Student Journalist of the Year Award recognises and promotes excellence in Victorian student journalism.

WHAT DOES IT OFFER STUDENT JOURNALISTS?

The winner will be named at the Melbourne Press Club Quill Awards — the prestigious annual gala dinner for journalism in Victoria, supported and attended by the state's major media outlets.

HOW WILL IT BE JUDGED?

A panel of judges will assess entries using the criteria for the Quill Awards, with an emphasis on originality, impact, quality and initiative. All entries must have been published in outlets available to the public in 2018.

WHAT DOES THE WINNER GET?

- Return airfares to the United States, accommodation and registration to attend the annual Investigative Reporters and Editors (IRE) conference
- 12 months membership of the Melbourne Press Club

2017 Student of the Year Award winner Carol Saffer with Quills host Jennifer Keyte.
